Boston's valuation ($1,808,569,298) equal to more than 40 per cent of all other valuations in Mass.

Massachusetts ranks fourth in amount of Federal income tax paid, this total being $109,857,344 in year ended June 30, 1924. N. Y., Penn. and Ill. rank first, second, and third.

Total taxes assessed by Mass. (exclusive of $10,000,000 State Tax on municipalities) in year 1924, $44,068,996, divided thus: Income tax, $15,211,192; business tax on domestic corporations, $11,448,89; same on foreign corporations, $2,528,470; inheritance tax, $6,484,110; franchise tax on 252 out of 403 public-service companies making returns, $2,447,692; on insurance premiums, etc., $2,558,523; on savings bank deposits (incl. Total taxable income reported for 1923 and assessed in 1924, $467,320,201, divided thus: Business income, $268,793,704; interest and dividends, $167,053,669; gains, $29,787,328; annuities, $1,685,500.

corporations taxed, 22,104, of which 2,755 were foreign.

Total property in Mass. exempted from taxation in 1924, $1,138,209,926 (mostly real estate) divided thus: Public property of cities and towns, $488,136,195; of literary and scientific institutions, $196,737,667; of United States, $141,772,499; of churches, $108,583,064; of charitable and benevolent institutions, etc., $80,795,278; of State, $85,371,327; of counties, $15,940,489; cemeteries, etc., $12,641,996; all other, $8,231,411. The total wealth in the United States on Jan. 1, 1923 as ascertained by the Federal Census Bureau, was $320,803,862,000 or $2,918 per capita. This is an apparent increase of 72.2 per cent in the 10 years since 1913. The value of real estate, with improvements, amounted to $155,908,625,000, not including public, ecclesiastical and institutional property exempt from taxation, which amounted to $20,505,819,000.

The increase in money value of other classes of property is largely due to the price inflation of recent years and should not be represented as a permanent increase in the quantity of wealth.

In Massachusetts the total wealth increased 106.7 per cent or from $6,279,266,000 in 1913 to $12,980,839,000 in 1923, the latter averaging $3,243 per capita.

The Boston Transit Commission, consisting of five members, two appointed by the Governor and three by the Mayor, began its official existence, July 1, 1894, and ended it July 1, 1918, after seven extensions of the original term. It constructed, under the authority of Acts of the Legislature, the following subways and tunnels, the ownership of which is vested in the City of Boston, and all costs to be covered by revenue from same, not by taxation; Tremont Street Subway, from Broadway and Tremont St., South End, to North Station and from Boylston St., near Charles to Park St., 1.68 miles, opened to Park St., September 1, 1897, and to North Station on Sept. 3, 1898, costing with subsequent alterations, $4,416,000, the first transportation subway in the United States; East Boston Tunnel, from Maverick square, E. Boston, under Boston Harbor and State St. to Scollay square, Boston Proper, 1.42 miles, opened December 30, 1904, costing $3,336,000, the first all-concrete underwater transportation tunnel in the world; Washington Street Tunnel, from Ash st. opp. Nassau, South End, to Traverse st., near North Station, 1.16 miles, opened November 30, 1908, costing $8,496,700 (including $2,850,000 land damages; Cambridge Connection Subway, from under Park st. station of Tremont St. Subway to Grove st., near Cambridge Bridge, 0.47 miles, opened March 23, 1912, costing $1,465,000; Boylston Street Subway from Commonwealth ave., near Kenmore st., Back Bay, to Tremont St. Subway, near Charles st., 1.5 miles, opened October 3, 1914, costing $5,485,639; East Boston Tunnel Extension from Scollay square to North Russell st., 0.41 miles, opened March 18, 1916, approximate cost, $2,523,000; Dorchester Tunnel, from Park st., Boston Proper, to Andrew square, South Boston, 2.26 miles, opened December 3, 1916, as far as South Station; on December 15, 1917, to Broadway, South Boston, and on June 29, 1918, to the Andrew Square terminal. Trains of four or six cars are run in the East Boston Tunnel, the Washington St. Tunnel, continuing on elevated track to Forest Hills, also in Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew sq., So. Boston, connecting with Cambridge Tunnel, to Harvard sq., Cambridge, while only single or double street-cars are run in the other tunnels and subways. Cost of Dorchester tunnel, $11,016,700 to Jan. 31, 1925; of new Arlington Station extending under Boylston St., between Arlington and Berkeley, $1,230,676; of East Boston Tunnel Alterations, Maverick sq., $3,768,857.

Total gross debt on Feb. 1, 1925 for all subways and tunnels, $42,096,700; against which a sinking fund of $7,825,262 has been accumulated from the revenue, making the net debt $34,271,438. The loans are payable mostly in 40 years from date of each (loans since 1911 payable in 45 years), annual interest averaging 3.8 per cent.

These underground ways, about nine miles in all with total of 19.27 miles of single track, were leased to the Boston Elevated Railway Company (which furnished the equipment) for term of 25 years (except Tremont Street 20 years) at annual rental of $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost (except East Boston Tunnel which was at $\frac{1}{3}$ of one per cent of all annual gross receipts of said company).

In accordance with Chapter 741, Acts of 1911, the various leases were extended to July 1, 1936, the rental to be $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent of net cost after expiration of the first-term leases.

By Chap. 185, Special Acts of 1918, the powers of the Transit Commission, whose term expired that year, were transferred to the Mayor, Commissioner of Public Works and City Treasurer, or such person or persons, not exceeding three, as the Mayor might appoint. By Chap. 3, Ordinances of 1918, the Transit Dept. was established as a regular City department, to be in charge of three commissioners.

By Chap. 480, Acts of 1923, the extension of the Dorchester Tunnel from Andrew Square about 1,300 feet southwesterly was ordered, the proposed new railway location then coming to the surface 400 feet southeast of Dorchester Ave., thence continuing to Harrison Square; thence along the Shawmut Branch railroad to its termination at Blue Hill Ave. and River St., Mattapan.

Loans issued in 1924-25 for Dorchester Tunnel extension, $300,000 and for Dorchester Rapid Transit, $150,000.

Of the 63 individuals thus selected (up to 1920 inclusive) by an electorate of 100 leading Americans, 27 were natives or for some time citizens of Boston or vicinity. The names of the latter are as follows:

Chosen in 1900—John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, William Ellery Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Horace Mann, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Peabody, Samuel Finley Breese Morse, Joseph Story, Asa Gray, Gilbert Stuart—total, 13.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1926.

MAYOR NICHOLS NAMES COMMITTEE OF FIFTY-FIVE CITIZENS TO ACT IN GREAT EMERGENCIES.

FOLLOWING CONFERENCE AND DISCUSSION HE CALLS INTO SERVICE LEADING PROFESSIONAL AND BUSINESS MEN TO ACT FOR PUBLIC SAFETY WITH NEW MUNICIPAL EMERGENCY BOARD.

Mayor Nichols on March 2 announced the organization and program for carrying out the policy that he has developed for dealing with emergencies in the City of Boston. The whole work embraces almost every form of disaster that could strike the city, or any part of it, and, generally, is divided into two functions—action and education.

The method of organization for the meeting of emergencies, adopted under the Boston policy of Mayor Nichols, differs from the method so far developed in New York in three respects: It co-ordinates action and education by developing both from the basis of engineering and of economics. It divides the work to be done into two sections: The Board, in touch with action and education, to carry on those functions; the committee, in touch with the problems of the city, to bring to the Board the problems and to take from the Board solutions of these problems. It combines board and committee under one head—the Mayor, as Chairman General. This is a new contribution to the science of government which Mayor Nichols has made.

This announcement is notable for another fact. It brings together in charge of activities directed towards protection of all the people of a great city three men, Mayor Nichols, Commissioner Rourke and Doctor Godfrey, each of whom has a long record of public service with the United States, states and cities, which has seldom been equalled.

Mayor Nichols is chairman general of the Board of Municipal Emergencies. Building Commissioner Louis K. Rourke is chairman of the Board. He will be in direct charge of the Action Division of this program. Other members are Acting Fire Commissioner Thomas F. Sullivan, Public Works Commissioner James H. Sullivan, Corporation Counsel Frank S. Deland, Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson, Dr. Hollis Godfrey and Health Commissioner Francis X. Mahoney. This Board held its first meeting on February 17. Doctor Godfrey's appointment to the Board was made known for the first time today.

The educational activities will be directed by Doctor Godfrey, who is president of the Engineering-Economics Foundation, the post-graduate college concerned with organizing and transmitting knowledge concerning man as endangered by emergency—conflagration, explosion, earthquake, famine, flood, panic, pestilence, riot, snowstorm, windstorm. The foundation's facilities will be available for the educational campaign directed by its president.

The public service history of the three men in charge is worth reading. Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols came to the mayoralty with a long record of public service behind him. As regards the city, he has served in the Common Council, had been Schoolhouse Commissioner, chairman of the Transit Commission and Boston Fuel Administration. As regards the state, Mayor Nichols served for years as representative and senator, including service as chairman of the Taxation Committee. As regards the United States, his service as United States Collector of Internal Revenue at Boston is well known.

Commissioner Louis K. Rourke, Building Commissioner of the City of Boston, Acting Transit Commissioner, Acting Head of the Schoolhouse Commission, has had a long record of public service. Notably he was engineer in charge of Culebra Cut Division at Panama, one of the greatest engineering projects of all time. He was with the United States government five years. He was with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for two years. He has been an officer of the City of Boston for nine years. He organized the present Public Works Department of the city. He was for three years in the mountains of Chile with the Guggenheim Corporation and built a new city, Chuquimata, on the desert. As construction engineer in charge, he developed its water system, sewer system, etc., and built an entire city for 20,000 people.

Dr. Hollis Godfrey was Federal Commissioner of Education of the United States Council of National Defense during the war and has held five other posts under the United States government. He was a member of the Iowa Survey Board, commissioner in charge of lighting of the city of Philadelphia during the Blankenburg administration, and consulting engineer to the city of Atlantic City. He has long been in education. He was for many years president of Drexel In-

MAYOR NICHOLS DEFENDS BOSTON'S PENSION SYSTEM AS BEST FOR CITY'S INTERESTS.

TELLS COMMITTEE ON PENSIONS TO TURN CITY'S CONTROL OF SYSTEM OVER TO STATE WOULD BE BACKWARD STEP AND AGAINST PRINCIPLE OF HOME RULE.

Mayor Nichols on March 3 sent to the Committee on Pensions a letter in opposition to the proposed state pension bill so far as it includes the City of Boston within its provisions. The letter of the Mayor is aimed to keep the present pension system of the city within the city's control, and is consistent with the City Council order passed March 1 in protest against any disturbance of the care and control of the retirement system of the city, or any

MAYOR NICHOLS WINS SWEEPING VICTORY FOR ADMINISTRATION AND CITY.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE ON MUNICIPAL FINANCE, WITH BUT SINGLE DISSENTING VOTE, REPORTS IN FAVOR OF $14 TAX LIMIT.

Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols won a decisive victory for the city and himself when the Legislative Committee on Finance reported favorably upon his measure for a $14 tax limit for Boston. The only member of the committee to dissent from the report was Representative John I. Fitzgerald. The Mayor sought quick action and received it.

Though the Finance Commission made no vigorous objection to Mr. Nichols' tax limit, several important considerations were reported by Chairman Charles L. Carr, such as a higher estimate of the ways and means, outside of taxes; the figuring of the estimated share of the state income tax, $3,000,000, as affecting the tax limit rather than holding it for the tax rate; the use of the free cash in the treasury as of February 23, amounting to $608,772, and the reduction of personnel in various departments, for a saving of $750,000.

The Finance Commission estimated that if the recommendations were adopted a tax limit of $11.50 would be sufficient. These matters, with the exception of that relating to the estimated income tax return, have been discussed before the Committee on Municipal Finance for years. Free cash in the treasury, as applying to the tax limit, was one of the hobbies of the former chairman, Michael H. Sullivan, and led to much acrimonious discussion with the city's financial experts.

Mayor Nichols refused to alter the figures which he had prepared for the committee, despite the Finance Commission's study. He agreed with certain committee members that the subjects were extremely debatable, and speaking of the suggestion that "dead timber" should be eliminated in various departments, he declared that he had had no time to make investigations for himself, and was inclined to the belief that more harm than good would result if he were to carry out the suggestions as outlined.

Chairman Carr of the Finance Commission, in buttressing his opinion that a $14 tax limit is too high, called to mind the interesting fact that Mayor Curley in both 1924 and 1925 presented requests to the Legislature for a tax limit of $13 and $12.75, respectively, and "uttered direful warnings as to the administration of the city in case the requests were reduced, as they were, in end of these years to $12.75 and $11.95." But, Mr. Carr said, the city managed not only to live upon the granted amount, but actually to roll up balances of appropriations in 1924-25 of $35,129.40, and in 1925 of $479,462.30.

Following Thursday's hearing there were indications that several members of the committee, at least, would take quite seriously Chairman Carr's suggestions, at least those relating to personnel. The report was that, while the committee might report for the Mayor, two or three members were inclined to make a fight on the floor of the House. Now there is no particular indication of trouble.

EMERGENCY COMMITTEE.

stitute, Philadelphia. He is now and has been for several years president of the Engineering-Economics Foundation of Boston.

Mayor Nichols, as chairman general, announced as a part of the policy, the formation of a Citizens' Committee on Municipal Emergencies co-operating with the Board on Municipal Emergencies but separate from it as an organization. This committee will bring to the Board the problems of emergency in the city and will transmit the solution of those problems to the organization activities of the city. This committee will be formed in two sections. First, the creation of a committee on organization which will become the nucleus of a larger committee; second, the creation of the total committee to be divided into subcommittees.

The plan outlined by the Mayor places upon the shoulders of Commissioner Rourke assisted by his colleagues the responsibility for putting knowledge into action and of securing through plan and action decrease of loss of life and property in emergency. It will be Commissioner Rourke's duty to develop methods of organizing the goods and services of the city and to strengthen the structures of the city so as to obtain maximum protection against destruction in advance of emergency and to provide all possible means of cure if the emergency comes.

To Doctor Godfrey and his group will fall the duty of organizing knowledge of the danger and of the means of protection and of providing this knowledge to the executive officers of the city and of private organizations and of educating the individual citizen as to his or her relation to emergency.

Following its long established custom of both research and teaching, the Engineering-Economics Foundation in assisting its president will study Boston continuously from the standpoint of the effects various emergencies have upon the city's people and its buildings. Its research program will include the diagnosis and methods of treatment of the men, women and children in the city as they are or may be endangered by emergency. This study also will include men in groups and organizations as well as the whole population. It will particularly consider effects on crowded sections or districts containing non-English speaking peoples. It will also consider emergency as related to the problems of protection of the various private organizations of the city.

All the results of these studies of observed, recorded and tested facts obtained by the Division of Education of the Board are made available to the Division of Action of the Board under Commissioner Rourke. In the Division of Action combining this data with the long experience of public service possessed by the officers of the Board and committee from the city, methods of preventing loss of life and property will be worked out in detail and will be made known to those responsible for putting the program into action.

In addition to developing knowledge for the Division of Action and for the city officers concerned with protection and providing them with an understanding of the dangers of emergency and the means of protection, the teaching program is devised to go direct to the citizens with the knowledge acquired. Public lectures, radio, the movies and the newspapers will be invoked to tell every man and woman in the city what they can do to protect themselves in preparation for or in any emergency or disaster that might strike Boston.

Virtually every branch of business, of industry and of social progress is represented in one form or another on the Citizens Committee, which will act as a point of contact between the Board and those the latter body should reach and help. Every man on the Citizens' Committee is directly in touch with a definite group of the problems of the city. Every one is able to bring detailed information concerning those problems to the Board. Every one is able to transmit the solution of the problems to the men who need to use such knowledge.

The committee is made up of the following gentlemen: Rear Admiral Philip Andrews, Dana Barnum, C. W. Barron, Dr. Frederick L. Bogan, J. Albert Brackett, Dr. Edward H. Bradford, Edmund J. Brandon, Alton Briggs, General Preston H. Brown, W. Irving Bullard, Allston Burr, F. Elliott Cabot, James Carney, Edward Dana, Sidney S. Conrad, Channing H. Cox, Ralph Adams Cram, C. H. Dillon, J. Sumner Draper, C. T. Edgar, Dwight Fabyan, Andrew Fisher, Richard Crozier, Henry I. Harriman, Fred P. Hayward, James Jackson, Matt B. Jones, Louis E. Kirstein, Henry Lapham, John Macomber, Charles D. Maginnis, John J. Martin, Kirtley F. Mather, William C. Matthews, Robert W. Maynard, George W. Mitton, Henry J. Nichols, F. H. Ordway, William Stanley Parker, James J. Phelan, Edwin W. Preston, A. C. Ratshesky, W. F. Rogers, Allan Winter Howe, Frank L. Simpson, C. M. Spofford, James J. Storrow, Charles H. Taylor, Ralph Thompson, Edward Webster, Alexander Whiteside, James F. Williams, Lothrop Withington, Judge Joseph Zottoli.

A woman's committee will be appointed later. A number of subcommittees will be appointed as the work progresses.

MAYOR APPROVES CHANGES.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners relative to the renaming and renumbering of Scollay square:

That the name of the public way heretofore known as Tremont row and the name of a part of the public way heretofore known as Court street, Boston proper district, be changed to and hereafter be known as Scollay square; said square as hereby named is bounded as follows:

curved line heretofore forming a part of the westerly line of Court street of five feet radius to a point in said Court street, eleven and 96-100 feet; thence crossing said Court street to a point in the easterly line thereof, one hundred fourteen and 50-100 feet; thence southeasterly by the easterly line of said Court street to Brattle street, three hundred twenty-eight and 19-100 feet; thence crossing Brattle street to the southeasterly corner of Brattle and Court streets, forty-eight feet; thence southeasterly by the easterly line of said Court street to Cornhill, seventy-six and 86-100 feet; and thence crossing Cornhill to the point of beginning, forty-seven and 50-100 feet.

That the name of part of the public way heretofore known as Court street, Boston proper district, lying between Scollay square as named herein and Cambridge street, be changed to and hereafter be known as Cambridge street.

That the name of the public way heretofore known as Barrington street, Dorchester district, between Beaumont street and Elm road, be changed to and hereafter be known as Barrington road.

Whereas, Under an order dated August 20, 1924, providing for the widening, relocation and construction of Cambridge and Court streets, an award of damages in the amount of $24,500 was made to the City of Boston for damages caused the land used for library purposes at the northeast corner of Lynde street and said Cambridge street; and

Whereas, It appears that said award of damages was made in error—in the belief that said land was controlled by the Public Library Trustees of the City of Boston, and that said trustees would be required to make all the changes and alterations made necessary by said widening; and

Whereas, It appears that the afore-described land is the property of the City of Boston, and that the said trustees shall not be obliged to defray the expense of making said changes and alterations; it is Ordered, That the award of $24,500 made as aforesaid be and the same hereby is rescinded and made void.

REARRANGEMENT OF STREET NAMES APPROVED BY MAYOR.

Mayor Nichols has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners providing rearrangement of the limitations of Court street, Scollay square and Cambridge street.

New street signs will shortly be placed and there will be a renumbering of the buildings in Scollay square and Cambridge street.

The new Court street will extend from Washington street to an imaginary line stretching across the area from Cornhill to Tremont street.

The old designation Tremont row will be dropped, and the section now bearing it will officially be part of Scollay square.

The highway upon which it immediately borders, as well as the opposite wing of the highway for northbound traffic, will be a part of the new Scollay square. From a line opposite the head of Sudbury street, the remainder of the highway, part of which is known as Bowdoin square, will be officially known as Cambridge street.

MAYOR NICHOLS NOT TO ABANDON PAY-AS-YOU-GO POLICY IN CONDUCT OF CITY'S BUSINESS.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE DURING HEARING ON $13,000,000 SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM BEFORE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE—WANTS RIGHT TO DEPART FROM PLAN, HOWEVER, SHOULD DIRE EMERGENCY DEMAND.

Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols has no intention of departing from the pay-as-you-go policy under which the city has been working for some years now, unless some dire emergency arises that would force the necessity. This intention on the part of the Mayor was voiced at the hearing before the Committee on Municipal Finances of the Massachusetts Legislature upon the bill of Dr. Frederick L. Bogan, chairman of the School Committee, to provide for a four-year, $13,000,000 school building program, and to raise the tax rate for $1,000 available for school purposes.

Joseph P. Lyons, Assistant Corporation Counsel, said there is no intent, unless absolutely forced to it, to diverge from the pay-as-you-go policy. It is the Mayor's intent, he said, to issue no bonds. He cited, however, the storms of this winter, which, in one week, brought an unexpected cost of $500,000 upon the city. Bonds would be issued only when necessary to keep the tax rate from becoming burdensome.

Doctor Bogan explained upon the first bill that the program laid out for the next four years totals $15,000,000, but in view of expected reduction in building costs it is intended to keep it within the $13,000,000 now asked. He offered a substitute for the measure which had been filed, by which, except in some case of great catastrophe or emergency, the entire amount would be raised out of the tax levy. The original bill filed provided that half should be from the levy and half from bond issues. High schools, he said, would take up one half of the cost, elementary and intermediate schools the balance. For the first time, he declared, the School Committee, Finance Commission and Mayor presented a united front upon a school program appropriation bill.

Under the bill, the appropriations would be $4,000,000 this year, $3,000,000 each in the following three years. The levying of the money would be spread over five years. The measure provides for covering the entire amount annually by tax levy, but gives the Mayor discretion, should such action be necessary, to raise one half of any year's appropriation by bond issue.

Rupert S. Carven, City Auditor, said that at the end of last year, the city had a borrowing capacity of only $2,000 within the limit. This bond provision is merely an anchor to windward, he said, to be used only in case of emergency. He called attention to the fact that this year's budget for the schools appropriates $21,000,000.

Charles L. Carr, chairman of the Finance Commission, said the new bill is the result of many conferences by all the departments involved, and in its present form meets with the approval of all. During several months the commission has been having a complete study and survey of the school question made under the direction of R. Clipston Sturgis, architect. Mr. Sturgis is of the opinion that, with economy and standardization into types of schools, the $15,000,000 program can be kept within the $13,000,000 in this bill.

William G. O'Hare of the School Committee said the program would cover the city's needs in high schools for twenty-five years to come.

Dr. Jeremiah E. Burke, Superintendent of Schools, and John C. Brodhead emphasized the need of a comprehensive construction program that the School Department could count upon, as it takes three years to build a high school from the time the land is taken and from a year and a half to two years for other school buildings. Mr. Burke reported that there are 23,000 high school pupils today, compared with 15,000 ten years ago and that altogether there are 11,000 pupils still in undesirable quarters. Mr. Brodhead said that each time the School Department goes to the Legislature for a program a year is lost in construction. Instead of an estimated $15,000,000 to cover construction needs, which had been whittled down to $13,000,000, the original estimates were for $18,000,000.

There was no opposition to the bill.

Upon the bill to raise the tax rate for school purposes, Alexander M. Sullivan, Business Agent for the School Board, explained the needs of more money. For alterations and repairs, fire protection and school yard improvement the last three years 91 cents on the thousand of valuation has been allowed under a special bill. This year it reverts to the older law, allowing 35 cents. The bill retains the 91-cent allowance.

For physical training, which includes the playgrounds, the sum now is fixed at 12 cents. This allows for operation of playgrounds at only half strength. A raise of three cents is asked, allowing operation of all eighty-four playgrounds at full strength from April to October.

One cent additional is asked for school physicians, nurses and dentists. The law now allows 10 cents, which with the growing school population is proving insufficient.

The bill, he said, will make the total which may be appropriated for school purposes 60 cents on $1,000, instead of 56 cents.

There was no opposition to the bill.

APPROPRIATION FOR EVACUATION DAY.

ZONING LAW DECISION.

An important decision relative to the zoning law in the City of Boston declaring that a private property owner has no standing in equity to bring a bill to enjoin another from violation of a zoning law and that such relief must be sought through proper public officers has been rendered by the full bench of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court.

The decision is based upon the bill in equity brought by Margaret A. O'Brien, owner of a two-family house and land at 207 Blue Hills Parkway, to enjoin Mary C. Turner, owner of land at 195 Blue Hills Parkway, from erecting two stores in alleged violation of the zoning act. The full court affirms the decree of the Superior Court.

BOSTON'S PENSION SYSTEM.

change in the benefits provided under the Pension Act for the present and future employees.

The Mayor states that the proposed state-wide pension bill is not so favorable to the employees in its benefits and requires a larger contribution from the employees and would result, in Boston, in two classes of employees, those under the present retirement system and future employees on a less favorable basis, making a constant source of trouble both for the city and the employees.

The Mayor in his letter said that Boston has been excluded from nearly all general legislative acts on account of special conditions, and he sees no necessity of changing a well-established custom and taking a step backward in the progress of home rule in civic affairs. The Mayor has instructed the Chairman of the Retirement Board to appear in opposition.

LAW SUIT SETTLED.

FORMER CITY TREASURER JOHN J. CURLEY RETURNS TO CITY FUNDS USED BY COUNCILMEN UNDER FORMER ADMINISTRATION FOR HOSPITAL INSPECTION TRIP.

Former City Treasurer John J. Curley has placed in the hands of City Treasurer Frank L. Brier, a check in the amount of $2,464.75, reimbursing the City of Boston for the sum spent upon the Western trip by members of the City Council in 1925, investigating hospitals. Thus the incident was closed.

William J. Drew, counsel for George H. McCaffrey and other taxpayers, obtained an execution from the Superior Judicial Court in connection with an equity proceeding for the return of the money.

The execution authorized the arrest of former Mayor James M. Curley, John J. Curley, former City Treasurer, and Rupert S. Carven, City Auditor, in the event that payment was not forthcoming.

When it was learned that the City Council of 1925 voted $2,500 which the small group of that body was to use for a tour of investigation, an order restraining the paying of the money was sought in the Supreme Court. Judge Wait held that the appropriation was legal, and during the pendency of an appeal by Mr. Drew from that ruling, E. Mark Sullivan, then Corporation Counsel, advised the Mayor that the veto was proper and that the money could be used. The Mayor thereupon issued an order for the payment. Mr. Carven approved it and former City Treasurer Curley paid it.

After the money had been expended the full bench of the Supreme Judicial Court ruled that it should not have been paid out of the city funds. The Finance Commission learned that Councilor Moriarty had about $184 of the original $2,500 in his possession, and this was recovered. The taxpayers looked to the two Curleys and Carven to make good the balance.

Former City Treasurer Curley states assessments will be made upon all members of the City Council party. It is understood that already James T. Moriarty and James T. Purcell, former councilors, have remitted their shares.

Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation have been directed to perform the following extra work under contract for steel ferryboats, dated November 17, 1925. These doors are to be in substitution for swinging doors called for; agreed price, $1,250.

MAYOR NICHOLS FOR EXPANSION OF EAST BOSTON AIRPORT, THAT WILL BE SECOND TO NONE.

BELIEVES IT TOO SMALL AND PROVIDES $25,000 IN BUDGET FOR SPECIAL TYPE LIGHTING AS FIRST MOVE TO AID.

ALSO HOPES TO GET PRIVATE ENTERPRISES INTERESTED IN PROJECT.

Mayor Nichols on March 2 forwarded a communication to W. Irving Bullard, President of the Colonial Air Transport, Inc., upon the subject of lighting facilities for Boston as an airport in which he stated in substance that he was absolutely committed to a policy of development of Boston as an airport from all angles of view. The survey made by him had created a substantial impression of the many advantages of an airport that will eventually stand second to none of the many that are now under production.

He believes our present airport is much too small and in the installation of a lighting system it should permit being readily expanded as the airport is expanded; but this consideration should not delay some sort of a lighting installation, and although it appears that the amount of $25,000 seemed a little excessive he assumed it would be good judgment to have a budget of that amount that would not prevent a rapid development as demands may need.

He believes the plan suggested by Mr. Bullard would be a benefit to all concerned, both federal, state and city, as the important question was one that should receive the co-ordinate and co-operative support of all three. He thought it was a question which was fast manifesting great interest to have the Boston airport and be a valuable asset to our city.

He understood the greatest airway in the world extends from New York City to San Francisco and over it the United States Air Mail operates, flying both day and night, making the fly westward in thirty-two hours and eastward in thirty-six hours. This airway is to be extended to Boston in the near future. He assumed that no discussion was necessary with Mr. Bullard to convince him of the value of this movement because time is money in this day and generation and in saving time you make money. It can be saved by the airplane because it is the essence of speed in modern transportation. None of us would be loathe to accept as a gift the interest of one day that could be saved on the transfer of funds between, let us say, Chicago and Boston.

Unlike any other airport in the world, Boston airport is comparatively close to the center of the city, and due to its location in this part of the country is nearer Europe than any other organized airport, which is a promise of its some day being considered as an international airport. All modern harbors should contain both seaport and airport facilities and Boston is a leader in this respect.

Of course he realized considerable federal funds had been expended at the airport and are being expended; also Massachusetts State Legislature is now considering an allotment of additional funds to lengthen runways and lengthen the landing area. This process, of course, must go on as the facilities for expansion are practically unlimited. The City of Boston has not been backward in assisting development of this airport, having originally provided the funds amounting to several thousand dollars to build the road in the airport. Also last year arrangements were completed with the City of Boston whereby a new 8-inch water main would be installed and it was his understanding that this main will be installed as soon as the airport develops and the state and city and nation must combine to install these improvements.

The Mayor believes it will be necessary to create or find a concern to adequately finance and willing to take chances of getting sufficient volume of business, making the project of air mail to Boston profitable. Postmaster New said that he would be very glad to make contracts opening up as many air mail lines from Boston as could be arranged.

He also stated it would be necessary to give energy and industry and finance to assure the positive success of Boston as an airport.

KIRSTEIN TOWER COMMENDED.

Deputy Superintendent Thomas F. Goode of the Police Department, in charge of the regulations of Boston traffic, declared the traffic tower at the corner of Summer and Washington streets, presented by Louis E. Kirstein, vice president of William Filene's Sons Company, an unqualified success after one week's operation.

Observers rate it 65 per cent efficient, figured upon the number of pedestrians and autoists who fail to heed the varicolored lights, but this rating is considered good in view of the fact that the Tremont street tower was only half as efficient at the end of the first week, but now is said to be 85 per cent efficient. In both cases two police officers now perform the work formerly carried on by four officers with less success.

HOLIDAY FOR MANY EMPLOYEES OF CITY ON MARCH 17.

MAYOR NICHOLS PLANS TO GIVE PRACTICALLY ALL EMPLOYEES THEIR FREEDOM ON EVACUATION DAY.

City and county employees who are to take part in the South Boston Evacuation Day parade on March 17, as well as all other employees who can be spared from their work, will be given the day off without loss of pay, according to an announcement made by Mayor Nichols. The Mayor added that he would like to give every employee and official a holiday, but a skeleton force must be maintained.

MAYOR NICHOLS PROTESTS PROPOSED INCREASED COSTS OF MILK TRANSPORTATION. ASKS 120-DAY SUSPENSION.

ADDRESSES LETTER TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND BOSTON & MAINE OFFICIALS POINTING OUT THAT BURDENS TO PUBLIC SHOULD NOT INCREASE.—ALSO APPEALS TO INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION.

Mayor Nichols, on February 27, wrote the Boston Chamber of Commerce relative to proposed increase in freight rates upon the transportation of milk which is causing apprehension lest at a time when the people of the city might expect the benefit of a reduction in milk, they will have an increase.

The Mayor said, in his communication, "The public has already gone through the troubles due to a shortage of coal, together with high prices, and it is highly undesirable that the troubles applying to one commodity in common use be transferred forthwith to another."

The contemplated increase will not raise the price of milk per can to any appreciable extent, but experience has shown that any increase tends to raise unjustifiably the retail price to the consumer. The Mayor has also written the officials of the Boston & Maine Railroad asking their co-operation with the public with a desire that they should not add to the heavy burdens already imposed by the high cost of living.

Though having received a communication from Homer Loring, chairman of the executive committee of the Boston & Maine Railroad, that the proposed revision in the railroad rate on milk shipments amounts to less than one fifth of a cent a quart, and will still fall short of providing an adequate return to the railroads, Mayor Nichols addressed a letter to the Interstate Commerce Commission requesting them to grant a suspension of the proposed increase.

The Mayor's letter to the Interstate Commerce Commission was in part as follows:

As Mayor of the City of Boston, and acting on behalf of the City of Boston, I desire to protest and request a suspension of the proposed increase in milk tariff rate filed by New England railroads.

The rates proposed under the listed schedules as filed would result in unreasonable rates on milk, cream and other dairy products covered by these schedules. They would, in my opinion, result in discriminatory rates on these commodities. The effects of the proposed rates would be an increase of cost of milk, a necessary food product for the consumers of Boston, to an amount in excess of $1,000,000 per year.

I would, therefore, respectfully urge the Interstate Commerce Commission to suspend the operation of these rates pending an investigation by the commission. I would urge the suspension be granted for the maximum period permitted under the Statutes of 120 days in order to permit a full investigation and opportunity for careful study by the City of Boston as to the justification for the increase as applied for, and I am prepared to have my Law Department appear in opposition at Washington before the Interstate Commerce Commission when such an important matter should be carefully considered.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 856.

The Superintendent of Police is hereby directed to make the following details for duty at the special election on Tuesday, March 9, 1926, to be held in Ward 6, South Boston district, to fill a vacancy in the office of City Councilor.

1. The necessary number of patrolmen from Police Divisions 6 and 12 to attend the several polling places in those divisions, on special election day, March 9, to preserve order and protect voters in the full exercise of their rights.

2. One sergeant to report in ample season at the office of the Board of Election Commissioners, City Hall Annex, Court square, to be prepared to leave there at 4 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, March 9, 1926, in a motor vehicle, to be provided for the purpose with ballot boxes, etc., to the several precincts in Ward 6, and deliver same to the police officer detailed in each precinct.

3. One patrolman to each of the 15 precincts in Ward 6, at 4.45 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, March 9, 1926, to receive ballot boxes, etc., from sergeant detailed on truck, in such case provided; such detail to continue until the ballots are counted and the result declared. They are then to bring the ballots and returns to the election commissioners' office on Tuesday, March 9.

4. Cards with the ward and precinct numbers and location of voting booths printed thereon will be forwarded to Divisions 6 and 12, on which the division commanders will write the name, the division number, and the number of the officer detailed at the time stated on the morning of March 9, at the voting booth of each respective precinct on his division. This card, to be given to the officer so detailed at the voting booth, will be retained in his possession until delivered by him to an employee of the Board of Election Commissioners, who will arrive accompanying a sergeant on motor vehicle from the election commissioners' office on the morning of March 9, with ballot boxes, ballots, etc., as hereinbefore stated. This card, when returned by such employee to the office of the election commissioners, will be its receipt that the ballot boxes, ballots, etc., have arrived at their proper destination.

5. On receipt by the patrolman from the sergeant, detailed on motor vehicle, as herein provided, of registering ballot box, voting lists and such other documents as may have been received from election commissioners, the patrolman detailed at polling place will deliver same to the warden or clerk of the precinct, allowing no person to take or handle them before such delivery, and hand the key of the registering ballot box to the warden. On delivery of the ballots to the warden, the patrolman will take from him a receipt for the ballots, which receipt will be returned to the election commissioners.

6. After the warden has opened the box and allowed the election officers and the public to see that it is empty, the box is to be again locked and the key given to the patrolman who is to retain it until after the polls have closed, except that, at the request of the warden, the patrolman may allow him to open the box for the purpose of pressing down the ballots, in order to make room for more ballots, after which the patrolman will see that the box is again locked and the key returned to the police officer.

7. The patrolman will obtain from the warden copies of poster, which will be sent to the latter, in relation to smoking and the use of liquor in polling places, and post same in conspicuous places where they may be easily read. Tacks will be sent for the purpose.

8. The warden will deliver to the patrolman detailed at the polling booth for his use at that place a copy of the descriptive voting list, which must be returned to the warden at the close of the polls.

9. When the polls are opened the patrolman will mark in the place indicated on the tag attached to the key the figures which the register shows before any ballots are cast.

10. At 4 p. m., Tuesday, March 9, 1926, when the polls close, a sergeant will report in Ward 6 to meet motor vehicle at last point of morning distribution; thence to proceed to each of the several precincts in Ward 6, and receive registering ballot box (which must be locked) and key thereof, voting lists envelope, signed by the warden and other election officers, receipts for ballots, unused ballot envelope (containing unused and spoiled ballots), stamps for marking spoiled ballots, carry them to the election commissioners' office and deliver same to some member of the Board of Election Commissioners.

11. When the polls are closed, the patrolman will mark on the same tag the figures which the register show after all ballots have been cast. He will then hand the key to the warden, who will open the box and take out all the ballots to be sorted and counted. The warden will then cause the voting lists, including the list used by the police officer, to be sealed up in an envelope, the envelope to be certified by the signatures of himself and the other election officers, and the same returned to the election commissioners, as described in section 10 of this order. The patrolman will not allow this envelope to be put into the ballot box. The sergeant, who will report on motor vehicle, will keep it about his person until delivery at the office of the election commissioners. The unused and spoiled ballots are then to be put in the envelope for unused ballots, and the envelope sealed and certified.

12. It is important that the patrolman sees that the voting lists envelope is signed by the warden, clerk and all the inspectors. The patrolman will also see that the special box for signatures of voters is returned in the registering ballot box.

13. In case a patrolman is detailed to relieve another after the close of the polls, the commanding officer will see that he is instructed as to the duty of bringing the official returns, the box of ballots cast, and the press return to the election commissioners' office as soon as they are delivered to him by the election commissioners.

14. When the ballots have all been counted, the ballots thus counted, tally sheets and nothing else shall be placed by the warden in the leatheroid box sent for that purpose, which must be sealed up and signed by all the election officers. The patrolman will particularly see that this box is properly sealed up and that all the election officers have

CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS SIGNED.

Mayor Nichols, on February 27, signed $3,000,000 worth of temporary loans of the $25,000,000 loan order passed by the City Council January 21, 1926. This issue was sold to the First National Bank of Boston with interest at the rate of 3.89 per cent a year and payable from the taxes of the present municipal year.

$20,000 PER YEAR WHITE FUND CONTRACT WITH GEORGE E. PHELAN DISSOLVED.

MOVE MADE TO PREVENT EMBARRASSMENT TO MESSRS. NUTTER AND BOYDEN AND IN THE INTEREST OF HARMONY AS WELL AS TO PRESERVE FRIENDLY RELATIONS.

The contract between George E. Phelan and the trustees of the George R. White Fund that had provided for the management of the $5,000,000 properties of the estate for a seven-year period at a salary of $20,000 a year has been dissolved. Mr. Phelan will continue to serve as manager of the fund under his original contract which expires March 31, 1927.

Under supervision of the trustees, the White Fund manager cares for thirteen buildings, two of which are office buildings, the remaining eleven being leased for more or less lengthy periods. There is much detail work on leases, upkeep, and rentals.

Mayor Nichols and President C. G. Keene of the City Council were the only new trustees brought into being by the change of administration. Yet Mr. Phelan, in his letter to the Mayor, points out that the suggestion that his Curley-made contract be breached came not from them, but from two trustees not connected with the city administration.

The Phelan letter is as follows:

"In September of last year the trustees of the White Fund—President Roland N. Boyden of the Chamber of Commerce and President George R. Nutter of the Bar Association dissenting—entered into a contract with me for services as manager of the fund for the term of seven years from September 1, 1925, canceling, at that time, my original contract, which would have expired on March 31, 1927.

"At the recent meeting for reorganization of the trustees, incidental to the new city administration, Mr. Boyden and Mr. Nutter—while especially complimentary of me and of the character of my services—spoke of their embarrassment, because of my continued service under the new contract and suggested that I relieve the situation by waiving the new and re-establishing the original contract.

"I am unwilling to concede any impropriety in the making of the new contract—feeling assured that the majority of the trustees who signed the same were prompted, as was I, by an earnest endeavor to conserve the best interests of the fund. I am advised, on competent authority, that the contract was legally prepared and executed.

"Still I regard my first duty to be mindful of the generous and broad-minded character of the bequest made by the late Mr. White, in establishing this fund for the benefit of the citizens of Boston and of the high character of service which, under the terms of his will, he summoned for its administration. I am conscious also of our relative positions in the rendering of this service, the trustees being specifically named in the will and charged with its control and management and I, acting as manager for them, under their direct appointment.

"The trust created by him is too sacred and its responsibilities too great for me to permit the embarrassment, now existing in the trustees, to continue, if it is in my power to dispel the same. Therefore, in the interest of the fund and in an endeavor to avert any possible impairment of its usefulness as administered by the present board of trustees, I defer to the judgment of the trustees as to the wisdom of my waiving the existing contract for services as manager and the re-establishing of the original contract, feeling assured that the trustees' action, in connection therewith, will be prompted by a similar impulse and that the cordial and friendly relations—now existing between us—may thus be permitted to continue."

The full bench of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, by a decision rendered upon the 2d instant, declares the statute creating the Board of Zoning Adjustment of the City of Boston is constitutional in every respect.

The Court further declares in favor of the present method of appointing members to the Board of Zoning Adjustment.

The Court rules also that J. Payson Bradley and other owners of property on Audubon road are entitled to have reviewed the action of the Board in so changing the zoning map of one district as to include in a "general business district" certain vacant land adjacent to Audubon road and near the houses owned by the petitioners.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY IS DECREASING NOTICEABLY IN CITY OF BOSTON.CHIEF OF CHILDREN'S BUREAU, DEPARTMENT OF LABOR, HIGHLY COMMENDS PROBATION AND OTHER IMPROVEMENTS OVER COMMITMENT TO INSTITUTIONS.

The methods of probation and decreasing juvenile delinquency in the City of Boston is highly commended by Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, who also declares that juvenile delinquency is decreasing throughout the nation.

The decline is most noticeable in Boston because of probation and other methods of improving delinquent children, instead of commitment to institutions.

Miss Abbott believes that children attend motion pictures "more than they should for their health, to say nothing of their morals." While there are better films for children now than heretofore, there still are a great many demoralizing films.

"Although the statistics of juvenile delinquents in the juvenile courts are most unsatisfactory, I think there is no question but what delinquency in the larger sense has decreased," reports Miss Abbott. "We have new forms of delinquency. It comes in new ways and new forms which surprise and shock you. But, as a whole, I think the evidence is of a decrease. That is strikingly so in Boston, in Judge Cabot's court, since 1918.

"Statistics show the number of delinquency cases per 1,000 children of delinquency age in thirteen cities for which statistics are available during the ten-year period 1915 to 1925. They indicate for most of the cities a general decline. The Boston figures show an increase during the war years, 1918 and 1919, but a marked decrease since that time, except for a very slight rise in 1923 as compared with 1922. The Boston rates for the years since 1920 are considerably lower than the rates for any previous years.

"A significant comparison is the number of commitments during a given period. The total number of delinquent persons ten to seventeen years of age admitted to institutions of all types during the entire year 1910 was 24,854, or 171.7 delinquents per 100,000 of the same age. The corresponding figure for 1923 (estimate based on exact figures for first six months) was 25,565, a ratio of 156.5 per 100,000 population of the same age. (The ratio in 1923 would have been 161 if the small number of delinquent children admitted to institutions for juvenile delinquents had been included as it was in 1910.) There has thus been a marked decline in delinquent children committed to institutions if growth in population is taken into consideration.

"Contrary to some opinions, there seems to have been no marked decrease in age of commitment. On the contrary only 9.4 per cent of the commitments in 1923 were of persons between the ages of eighteen and twenty years, as compared with 9.8 per cent in 1902. There has been no increase since 1904 in the percentages of persons between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-four years, and the percentages for this age are lower for recent years than for the years 1880 and 1890. The same may be said of the age group twenty-five to thirty-four years. Persons between the ages of thirty-five and forty-four are contributing a slightly larger percentage of the total commitments at present, as compared with earlier years."

ALCOHOLIC CASES TO BE SEGREGATED.HAYMARKET SQUARE RELIEF STATION TO BE USED FOR TREATMENT OF SUCH.

Mayor Nichols has conferred with Joseph P. Manning, president, and Dr. George G. Sears and Carl Dreyfus, trustees of the Boston City Hospital, and Hon. Herbert A. Wilson, Commissioner of Police, relative to the best methods to relieve the congestion at the hospital, caused by the rapid increase in the number of alcoholic cases during the past three months.

It was agreed to make use of the Haymarket Square Relief Station for the treatment of alcoholism, thus segregating such cases from the other patients at the City Hospital. At present the Relief Station is used to only about one third of its capacity for accident cases.

The situation at the City Hospital is reported to be the most serious since prohibition started, with the number of alcoholic patients increasing to such a degree that more worthy patients have been crowded out. If the Haymarket Square plan does not solve the problem, new measures will be considered.

It is reported the alcoholic cases require from two to ten days hospital treatment.

PETITION FOR EQUAL PAY FOR EQUAL SERVICE

A communication was received from F. Louise Dacey, President, High School Women's Club, under date of Feb. 12, 1926, reporting that at a meeting of the Club held on Jan. 20, 1926, it was voted unanimously that the following petition be submitted to the School Committee of the City of Boston:

That the principle of equal pay for equal service, irrespective of sex, be put into immediate effect.

The communication also stated that so far as is understood, last year when the general investigation of salaries was made there was no recommendation by the School Committee to the Board of Apportionment that the principle of equal pay be considered in the readjustment of salaries, and in view of this fact, and also of the fact that for a number of years now Boston has been the only large city in the United States in which equal pay is not a recognized principle, the Club again begs a consideration of this important question by the School Committee.

In this connection, Mr. Sullivan pointed out that the School Committee did make recommendation to the Board of Apportionment that the equal pay aspect be not considered by that Board.

The communication from the High School Women's Club was referred to the Board of Apportionment.

PROTEST AGAINST PROPOSED PENSION LEGISLATION.

A communication was received from Anne D. Allard, President, Boston Elementary Teachers Club, under date of Feb. 14, 1926, requesting, on the behalf of the Club, that the School Committee withdraw or offer a substitution for Senate Bill No. 205 which is before the Legislative Committee on Pensions, and setting forth in detail various reasons for this request.

RECONSTRUCTION OF BRIDGES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 26, 1926.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Under date of February 1, 1926, I received from the Commissioner of Public Works two letters relative to the necessity for the reconstruction of the Broadway Bridge, over the tracks of the Old Colony Division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, and for the reconstruction of the West Newton Street Bridge, over the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, copies of which letters I herewith transmit. Before these bridges can be reconstructed as recommended by the Commissioner of Public Works it is necessary that your honorable body should pass the accompanying order so that application may be made to the Department of Public Utilities and thereafter an application be made to the Superior Court for the appointment of a commission to determine who should carry the order of the Department of Public Utilities into effect and by whom the expenses of the reconstruction should be borne.

I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying orders.

Yours very truly,

MALCOLM E. NICHOLS,

Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department,

February 1, 1926.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

It will be necessary this year to rebuild the bridge on West Newton street over the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. This bridge was constructed in 1872 and it was repaired in 1921. It is now unsafe for loads in excess of seven tons, and further repairs are not considered advisable.

The estimated cost of a new bridge is $45,000, and it is proposed to encase all the steel work below the floor in concrete. We then would have a bridge good for at least fifty years.

The first step towards this improvement will be for the City Council to apply to the Department of Public Utilities for a decision as to the necessity for the rebuilding. The procedure in the matter is covered by chapter 159 of the General Laws.

It is respectfully recommended that the City Council be asked to pass an order embodying the request upon the Department of Public Utilities.

Yours respectfully,

JAMES H. SULLIVAN,

Commissioner of Public Works.

Whereas, West Newton street in the South End district, a public highway in the City of Boston, crosses the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad by an overhead bridge; and

Whereas, We are of the opinion that it is necessary for the security and convenience of the public that an alteration which does not involve the abolition of the crossing at grade should be made in said overhead bridge and its approaches;

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, in the name and behalf of the City Council, apply to the Department of Public Utilities for its decision upon the necessity of such alteration, and for prescribing the manner and limits within which it shall be made; and if the decision of the Department of Public Utilities is that an alteration is necessary, that the Corporation Counsel take such legal proceedings as are necessary to have such decision carried into effect in compliance with sections 59 to 64, both inclusive, of chapter 159 of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Whereas, Broadway in the South Boston district, a public highway in the City of Boston, crosses the tracks of the Old Colony Division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway by an overhead bridge; and

Whereas, We are of the opinion that it is necessary for the security and convenience of the public that an alteration which does not involve the abolition of the crossing at grade should be made in said overhead bridge and its approaches;

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel, in the name and behalf of the City Council of Boston, apply to the Department of Public Utilities for its decision upon the necessity of such alteration, and for prescribing the manner and limits within which it shall be made; and if the decision of the Department of Public Utilities is that an alteration is necessary, that the Corporation Counsel take such legal proceedings as are necessary to have such decision carried into effect in compliance with sections 59 to 64, both inclusive, of chapter 159 of the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

INVESTIGATION OF PROBATION DEPARTMENT, ROXBURY MUNICIPAL COURT.

Coun. WARD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on County Accounts be requested to make an investigation of the Probation Department of the Roxbury Municipal Court.

Coun. WARD.—Mr. President and gentlemen of the Council, in introducing my order to your honorable body, I am going to present my conception of justice, as I believe from my close association with this body that you, my colleagues, are of my mind and opinion in the matter of justice. Within the past week I have studied with great interest the probation system in Massachusetts as published by Rev. Frank Kramer Sleeper, and I assure you, gentlemen, my views or our views do conform with the views of this great and humane author, the highest type of American, ever ready to extend the hand of human kindness to his more unfortunate brother. I have read with great interest the reports of P. Henry

Aldrich, who in 1853 was District Attorney of Worcester County and later a judge of the Superior Court of Massachusetts, also the reports of Hon. Daniel W. Bond, District Attorney from 1877 to 1889. These two great men, gentlemen, were the founders of the probation system in our city and in our state. It was through their efforts that in 1878 they succeeded in inaugurating the probation system in Boston, and later, in 1880, instituted this system throughout the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It was their desire that this system should mean that every effort be made by the probation officer to help the poor unfortunates coming before the court. Its object was to abolish the idea and thought that was in the minds of some men who were dominated by the spirit of heartless justice, who believed in the maxim of a "well kept Hell fire to roast sinners," who believed in the maxim "an ounce of punishment for an ounce of crime," who believed in the ancient Hebrew law "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, and a life for a life." But since that era the world has changed, and we are now living in a modern age, where the maxim of all with the milk of human kindness in their makeup is to win back a violator of the law to a life of integrity, to a great moral life. This is infinitely better than imprisonment, and this, gentlemen, was the object of probation as laid down by statute, and as interpreted by the pioneers of the system. We find in one of our local courts a man who would make the cruel Nero blush for shame. His atrocities and his abuse of the unfortunate is shameful for citizens of the twentieth century to behold, and to think that this lies at our very door! I have occasion to go to this court, and hear men and women who go before a court in our own county abused, told by this cancerous growth on the body of justice that they are "bums" and "drunkards," and not fit to be at large, and then he coldly and deliberately makes recommendations to the court that these men be sent to jail. This, Mr. President, is a violation of the statute as contained in chapter 276, section 85, of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts, which reads: "In addition to the other duties imposed upon him, each probation officer shall, as the court may direct, inquire into the nature of every criminal case brought before the court under the appointment of which he acts, and inform the court, so far as is possible, whether the defendant has previously been convicted of crime. He may recommend that any person convicted be placed upon probation. He shall perform such other duties as the court requires." What right has he to stand before the judge and request that men be sent to jail? I will quote an instance which came before the court one day while I was present. A young man was brought in charged with drunkenness, the first time he had ever been in court. The presiding justice asked if there was any record, before disposition. Without addressing the court, the probation officer said, "No, he's never been up before, but his father has been here five or six times for drunkenness, and probably he is following in his footsteps." It is outrageous to witness hundreds of poor unfortunates testifying before the court, pleading for clemency, when this tiger from the jungle of fifteenth century oppression enters and in place of presenting the court with the record delivers his ultimatum of what he thinks should be the disposition of the case, and struts out like Kaiser Wilhelm would strut had Germany won the war. It is time for action from some source. I believe it is time for the County Commissioner to advise the court of these atrocities, and I would like to appear before the Committee on County Accounts and present my charges, and the charges of an outraged citizenry that seeks justice at the hands of a justice for the removal of this tyrant. I can well cover the character of this man as characterized in the words of the immortal bard of Avon, when he said: "Man, proud man Drest in a little brief authority, Most ignorant of what is most desired, Plays such fantastic tricks before high heaven As make the angels weep."

Coun. FREELEY.—Mr. President, I desire to say a few words in support of Coun. Ward's order. I have frequent occasion to visit the Roxbury Municipal Court, and I have observed with indignation the gross abuse of power by the Chief Probation Officer connected with that court. A probation officer should be the right arm of the court,—an official to investigate and report to the presiding justice, without fear or favor, the record of persons brought before the court. He should be endowed with a broad knowledge of life and human nature, and with an understanding of and sympathy with the frailties of humanity. A tremendous responsibility rests upon his shoulders in the discretion vested in him by statute in recommending to the court the placing upon probation of persons found guilty of crimes and misdemeanors. From my observation of Mr. Keene's conduct of his office, I am frank to say that he has never been able to break away from his police training. It is commendable in a police officer to seek in every fair way to secure a conviction in a case where he has reason to believe the law has been broken. It is natural for him to believe that every person brought before the court is guilty, for he sees but one side of the case,—the circumstances surrounding an alleged infraction of the law which points to the accused as the one responsible for the violation of the statute. Probation Officer Keene is out of tune with the probation system. He is not in sympathy with its merciful principles. His conduct of his office denotes that he considers himself an adjunct of the Police Department,—an aid to the prosecuting power. In his prejudging of cases, in his intolerant attitude towards persons who the law states shall be considered innocent until they are found guilty, in his prejudicial statements to the presiding judge, he is not alone unfair to the accused but he is likewise terribly unfair to the judge who in large measure is compelled to depend upon his information and recommendation in passing sentence upon persons found guilty. A judge should have an assistant who would be a real help along such lines. But in Mr. Keene, Judge Hayden has not such an assistant. He has an officer biased and prejudiced, able to see only from the police standpoint, and whose training and attitude make him unfit to handle his job either within the letter or the spirit of the probation law. I hope this honorable body will pass the very proper order introduced by my colleague from Ward 9.

The order was referred to the Committee on County Accounts.

STATEMENT BY COUN. FITZGERALD.

Coun. FITZGERALD.—Mr. President, I ask the consent of the Council to make a statement.

President KEENE.—If there is no objection, the councilor will proceed.

Coun. FITZGERALD.—Mr. President, there appeared in one of the Boston newspapers last Wednesday morning what purported to be a statement that I had made at a hearing before the committee of the Legislature. I want to say here and now that the newspaper report of the statement I made is incorrect, that I never made the statement attributed to me. The bill was in reference to married women employed by the City of Boston, and I said I was informed that there was a young lady employed in City Hall drawing a salary of $3,000 a year who had a husband working in a lucrative position, and that he was able to support her. That was one of the cases I mentioned. At the time I made the statement, which was made on information furnished me at the time, I did not even know who the party referred to was, and did not mention any name, as I did not even know the name. Therefore, the article, giving the name which I was purported to have used, was incorrect.

Nays—Coun. Dowling, Freeley, Ward—3.

Coun. DOWLING—Mr. President, I feel that I ought to make some explanation of my vote on the order just passed. It is through no lack of appreciation of the efforts or desires of the honored councilor on my right but I don't think the present condition of the finances of the city warrants the expenditure of a lot of money for municipal buildings. There is no district in the City of Boston that needs a municipal building more than the district that he and I represent. It is the fifth largest ward in the City of Boston, with a very dense population; we have been a part of the City of Boston since about 1875, and there has not been a municipal building of any kind placed in our section except a fire house and a schoolhouse.

The general idea of a municipal building does not appeal to me at all,—as I say, through no lack of courtesy to the councilor from Roxbury, but I feel that I ought to make this explanation.

4. Report on order (referred January 11) for a loan of $400,000 to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings for a municipal building in Ward 1,—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 20, nays 0.

5. Report on order (referred January 11) for a loan of $500,000 to be expended by the Superintendent of Public Buildings for a municipal building in Ward 3,—that the same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed, yeas 19, nays 1.

Yeas—Coun. Arnold, Bush, Donovan, Dowd, Englert, Fitzgerald, Freeley, Gilbody, Green, Guild, Heffernan, Lynch, McGrath, McMahon, Parkman, Ruby, Ward, Wilson, Wragg—19.

Nays—Coun. Dowling—1.

6. Report on order (referred January 11) for a loan of $75,000, to be expended by the Park Commissioners, to provide for erecting concrete stand, with a seating capacity of 3,000 persons, erection of a new local building, resurfacing and grading of playground, erection of concrete and iron benches wherever necessary at Randolph Street Playground,—that the same ought to pass.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of 50 or 60 persons, arriving in September and settling at Naunkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about 400 persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a Governor and Council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident Governor on April 20, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on Oct. 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as Governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served 13 years as Governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott 15 years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving 12 years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed 82 years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."
